

MODEL PLANT AT MARICOPA MINES

MILL AND OTHER EQUIPMENT WILL BE BUILT ON ADVANCED LINES

AUSTIN, Nev., Dec. 23.—The mining plant for the Maricopa Mines company, operating in New York canyon to the north of Austin, is completed and rapid work is being done in preparing for the foundations for the 100-ton mill which will now be erected as quickly as possible.

The installation of the power plant, the compressor plant, machine and carpenter shops, boarding house and sleeping quarters for 50 men, has been accomplished during the past 90 days. The compressor has a capacity of 600 feet and is driven by a 75 h. p. gasoline engine.

The machinery for the mill has been shipped from Denver and will arrive at Austin as rapidly as the men at work on the job are ready for it. This will be Austin's second reduction plant.

The ore for this mill will come from the famous Patriot vein, which already has a record for high grade shipments and which will supply an unlimited amount of ore of the mill grade. The Maricopa people will tap this vein through the Blue Blue tunnel westerly from the former workings.

The company is setting a pace in the matter of looking after the comfort and convenience of men in its employ. Besides separate sleeping quarters for each shift, a recreation room has been built, where employees can meet when off duty. The camp is in a canyon four miles from town. A road has been graded along the mountain side from the tunnel portal to the mill site. Along this a track will be laid and ore will be conveyed in cars direct from the vein where it is broken down, to the ore bins at the mill. The company is composed of wealthy Cleveland men who have bought a number of the oldest patented claims in the canyon. During the coming year they will carry on one of the most important programs of mine development in this part of the state.

While doing the annual work on the property of the Austin Gold Mining company this week, the Jack Pot ledge, which passes into this tract, was uncovered. It is about three feet in width where cut into and is rich in silver chlorides and carries good values in gold.

The people of Austin see in the year 1911 a full return of the old-time prosperity of the camp. Prosperous conditions are already here. There is not a vacant house in the town. New families are arriving each week with employment for all at a liberal scale of wages.

BEST PROGRAM EVER PRESENTED AT THE BUTLER

TONIGHT'S BUNCH OF FILMS SHOULD BE SEEN TO BE APPRECIATED

The program at the Butler for this evening is a good one, consisting of three big reels, all of them features. "The Gambler's End" is very interesting drama, showing the ultimate end of the average gambler who neglects his family. "Love At First Sight" is an Essanay comedy and a scream from beginning to end. "Mr. Four Flush" is a Selig comedy. This subject represents a man regaling his club friends with vivid stories of his experiences in globe trotting, when in reality he has been reducing huge stones into small ones, having been sentenced to jail for six months. His perfidy is discovered and his club friends make him suffer for it. Dick Rabe in his comedy musical act rounds out one of the best programs ever presented at this popular place of amusement.

ICE HOUSE DESTROYED

The new warehouse of the Pacific Fruit Express at Donner lake, two miles west of Truckee, was destroyed by fire Monday morning, about one-half of its 15,000 tons of ice being melted. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The building was only recently completed and was worth $100,000.

NEVADA NEEDS ADVERTISING

PUBLICITY COMMISSION SHOULD BE ENABLED TO SET FORTH STATE'S RESOURCES

Some few years ago, Nevada had a "hunch" and created a publicity bureau, whose duty it was to advertise the state and bring to the attention of the country at large the advantages offered by Nevada in different lines of industry. The start was all right, but it ended there. The appropriation committee of the legislature failed to make any appropriation for the commission, and in fact even overlooked the commissioner's salary, so the latter had to sue for his pay. This did not furnish encouragement to the publicity commissioners to turn out work, although Sam Davis, who filled the office, gave a great deal of time and used lots of ingenuity in getting advertising for little or nothing. But this was not the kind of advertising needed, and no startling results were obtained. Like anyone else, Davis found it pretty hard to make the engine go without fuel or steam, says the Goldfield News.

The incoming legislature should furnish the publicity commission with some "steam," or in other words furnish it some money to do business on. No state in the union has more latent and undeveloped resources. To be sure Nevada's chief industry is mining, and perhaps always will be. A greater part of her territory is useful for nothing else, still there is a domain aggregating more in extent than many of the greatest agricultural and horticultural states of the union that is susceptible of irrigation and cultivation, that has never been touched. Nevada is already a large producer of field and range products, but her possibilities in agricultural and horticultural lines are little known. Reaching from Oregon to the Colorado river, or 7 degrees of latitude, Nevada presents a diversity of climate offered by no other state; and while it is known only as a desert country, over 20,000,000 acres are agricultural land and 30,000,000 more are used for grazing, and millions of acres yet can be brought under cultivation by the development of water.

Southern Nevada offers inducements for the agriculturist and horticulturist that should be advertised throughout the country. It was a startling revelation to even our own people that the finest of semi-tropical fruits and nuts are being successfully raised in southern Nevada, although as yet on a small scale. In the great valleys south of Goldfield can be raised anything that California produces, except oranges; and the fruits raised in this section are finer than any produced by our neighboring states. Northern Nevada is famous for apples and potatoes, and in sections of the state fortunes are being made in the raising of onions on a large scale. The opportunities presented by cotton raising are just beginning to grow on our people. Nevada has produced on a small scale the finest cotton ever grown in the country and was awarded first prize at the New Orleans exposition.

But who outside of a few Nevadans interested in such matters, know these facts? No advertising has been done, and no one would ever think of coming to desert Nevada for farms and orchards.

What Nevada needs is a disinterested medium of advertising, such as a state bureau would afford; and what Nevadans need is an awakening to the usefulness of such an institution as the state publicity commission. The legislature could well afford to appropriate $25,000 to push the proper advertising of Nevada's agricultural possibilities. There is plenty of capital waiting for irrigation and land projects, and much of it should be directed this way, and would be if the right kind of publicity were given. Give Nevada a chance.

LIGHT THAT BURNS FIVE YEARS

The adoption by the government of acetone gas acetylene dissolved in acetone for use of lighthouses, beacons, lightships and light buoys, will soon revolutionize the whole system of coast lighting in this country, and the lighthouse keeper and buoy tender will be forced to find new vocations.

Acetylene in its various forms is the only commodity yet produced that will give a light next in power to that of the sun. By its use inventions have been perfected to produce lights for a continuous period of one to five years or more, according to the amount of fuel installed. The most wonderful light in the world and now in use by the United States government is the one invented by Delan, the Swedish scientist. It is produced by acetone gas and has a "human working" sun instrument containing a glass tube of several rods of varying reflective powers which automatically opens and closes the valve in accordance with the light absorbed. In other words, the light burns continuously until affected by the heat of the sun, when it goes out, only to be revived at sunset. It also contains a flashing apparatus in the lantern.

ALL TONOPAH IS INVITED TO THE AVIATION MEET

LARGE NUMBER OF DARING AVIATORS WILL FLY IN LOS ANGELES

According to a dispatch received by the Bonanza this morning from a Los Angeles news bureau, the following message was sent to the mayor of Tonopah yesterday:

"The keys of Los Angeles are offered to your people during the second international charity aviation meet from December 24 to January 3, inclusive. We will fly Brookins, Hoxsey, Parmelee, Curtis, Willard, Mars, Ely, McCurdy, Latham and Radley. Los Angeles bids your city welcome."

"GEORGE ALEXANDER,

"Mayor of Los Angeles."

If the coming aviation meet compares with the first one held at Los Angeles about a year ago, several records should be made. The list of talent now advertised insures the meeting a success in every way, for some of the most daring aviators will compete for records.

VALUE OF PROPERTY RIGHTS

Small boys are very prone to fail to recognize the value of others' property. My small son, in company with a playmate, in a game used the lights in a neighbor's hen-house for targets.

The owner of the damaged property visited both homes, where the culprits hid in dismay, and collected damages.

Here was a valuable opportunity for a lasting lesson. I called my boy to me, and we talked the matter over, he having full chance to explain his side of the case. Then the mischief he had wrought and the reputation it might give him were gravely discussed.

He voluntarily offered to refund the amount of his part of the damage out of his small savings until full restitution was made. This was finally agreed upon, and here came the hard part for the boy. His pocket money allowance was 25 cents a week, which was frequently reduced by fines for ill-temper or other sundry breaches of etiquette or duty. It took him seven weeks to get out of debt.

When the last cent was paid, he gave a sigh of relief, and said: "There, I'll never destroy anything again as long as I live."

FUGITIVE ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 23.—On a warrant issued at Albuquerque directing his arrest as a fugitive from justice, E. E. Forstall was released on bond.

The warrant was issued on complaint of C. E. Newcomb, of Albuquerque, charging embezzlement. Forstall was in the employ of an insurance company and was alleged to have been also concerned in a promotion corporation of New Mexico, out of which the action arises. He declares the company became bankrupt and that he turned over all the moneys due in his possession. He says he made no effort to conceal himself and regards the arrest as spite work.
